EXONERATION

Dr. Samuel Johnson used to ridicule David Garrick and find all manner of fault with him. He really loved him, however, and quickly came to his defense if anyone else dared to criticize him.

That is the way we students feel about Wadsworth High School. We often act as if we don't like it. We call it names. We even refer to it sometimes as a prison and pretend that we would like to escape from it.

We don't actually think of ourselves as prisoners, compelled to attend this school for six long years; but, since some of us have often jokingly referred to our school as a jail, we, the members of the annual staff, chose the prison theme for this year. We think it is striking and original.

We are not making fun of our school; but there are many situations which make the comparison appropriate: the hall monitors, detention after school, the last mile before an English test, etc.

The principal function of a prison is that of guiding the prisoner back to a normal, worth-while life. Being seniors, we notice that those who race through the halls as seventh graders have become civilized by the time they are seniors. We are daily being guided from childhood to manhood for the purpose of assuming our life's task.

An ancient prison was boresome, torturous, and hideous; but a modern "school prison" is fun, interesting, helpful, and educational. We have been taught by the mind, not by the sword; we have been guided.

You will not take seriously what we do not mean seriously. You will accept our prison analogy as the result of an attempt to find a theme that is unique. We mean it to be humorous, but not satirical. Our real attitude toward our school is expressed on page 88.

REWARD

Mr. Robert Gerstenschlager

We, the Senior Class of 1952, proudly dedicate our yearbook to Mr. Robert Gerstenschlager, manual arts teacher in charge of the print shop.

Since his coming to Wadsworth High School in September, 1941, Bob, as he is affectionately known to his students, has demonstrated kindly understanding and unlimited patience. His ever-ready willingness to co-operate in all undertakings, even with the trying problems of last minute concert programs, has endeared Bob to all those who have worked with him.

In addition to his duties as director of all school printing, Mr. Gerstenschlager is president of the Wadsworth City Teachers' Association and has served in this capacity for the past four years.

With deep appreciation for the services he has rendered to our school, we sincerely wish him continued success.

THE BIG HOUSE

The land on which Wadsworth High School now stands was purchased by the Board of Education in the spring of 1869. In the following year there was constructed a six-room brick building which stood three stories high and which contained an assembly hall, instead of additional classrooms, on the upper floor. By the fall of 1870 Wadsworth's first high school under the graded system was ready to begin classes. Because of the increasing enrollment, several rooms were added to the building until, in the year 1908, it became necessary to erect an entirely new school.

In 1922 the new building was enlarged by the addition of twenty-two rooms, an auditorium, and a fifty-by-seventy-foot gymnasium floor. This constitutes the building which is in use today.

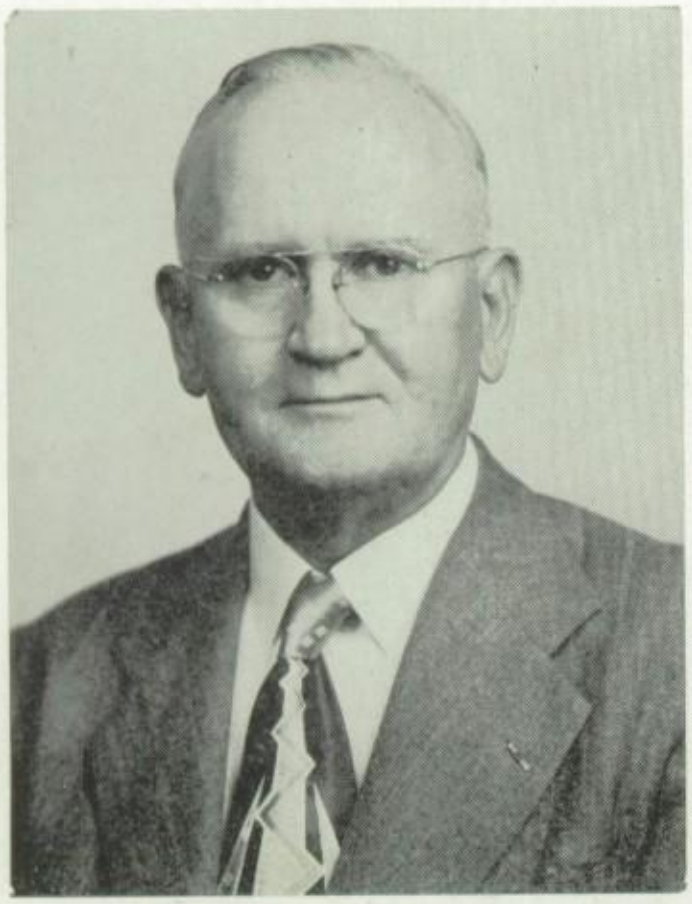
EXECUTIONERS

SUPERINTENDENT OF PRISONS

Every prison needs a good superintendent to manage all the outbreaks and uprisings which occasionally occur. Although seldom seen because of his many meetings, speeches, and ever-present school affairs, Mr. Burkholder carries out the duties of the school system effectively. Besides being an excellent superintendent, he is willing to take part in pep rallies and assemblies.



CHIEF WARDEN

Beginning the day with a friendly smile from Warden Work, as he reminds us that it is 8:25, we never think of our school as a jail. Always ready to listen to our troubles and then to help us, Mr. Work, affectionately known as O. J., is well liked by the entire student body.

PAROLE BOARD

M. F. Yelinek (Vice-President), T. H. Ewing, S. E. Welty(President), D. O. Wearstler, J. S. Overholt.

Not many of us personally know these men, but their decisions affect us greatly. They indirectly have a hand in determining school policies, employing teachers, spending tax money, raising revenue, deciding the school curriculum — in short, managing the school. They are citizens of the town who are interested enough in the school and in the students to give of their valuable time in order to improve Wadsworth High.

FRIENDS

1. OUR CUSTODIAN FRIENDS: Bill Bassett, Bob Trease, Charlie Banks.

2. OFFICE CREW: Beulah Good, Secretary to the "Warden"; Bill Heyl, Clerk to the "Parole Board"; Treva Adams, Secretary to the "Superintendent."

3. COOKS AT WORK: Hazel Crumley, Elsie Kissling (Chief Cook), Irene Mohler, Kathryn Miracle, Darlene Cordrey, Lois Miracle.

4. "PRISON" NURSE: Mrs. Abbott.

Tormented by book reports and Shakespeare, we will never forget our English classes. Compelled as we were to take these courses, many of us, nevertheless, not only learned the essentials of effective speaking and writing, but also found enjoyment in the reading of great literature. Although we may never go to Rome or to Madrid, our courses in foreign language have been valuable as background material for much of our other work. Through the study of history and government, we have learned the importance of intelligent participation in our government for our own well-being.

Both a vocation and an avocation can be attained here at Wadsworth High. A concert program, a new dress, fifty words a minute with no errors, a desk, a development of intersecting blocks, and internal pipe threads—all of these might appear through the hard labor of the vocational students. Preparing for one's future work—whether it be in the shop, in business, or in the home as a housewife—is vitally important. Since physical training is as important as mental training, we have taken physical education in order to have at least a basic knowledge of sports.

After mastering the 2+2 stage in grade school, we advanced in high school to problems a bit more difficult, for example, 2X2. Going on field trips, getting the same answers as the answer book, balancing chemical equations, breaking test tubes, and finding "x," our constant companion, are just a few of the problems that have baffled the future Einsteins of Wadsworth High. From classroom experiments and observations, we have learned to appreciate better the contributions of science and math to modern living. Through our courses in the field of music, we have enriched our appreciation of music, besides actually performing for others at concerts.

BIG SHOTS

Clayton Kramer (President), Arno Welty (Boy Representative), Mrs. Hildebrand (Advisor), Persis Nagel (Secretary-Treasurer), Carolyn Delagrange (Girl Representative), Ted Etling (Vice-President).

As we, the Senior Class, prepare to leave Wadsworth High, many happy memories will remain with us. We will especially recall our eventful, final year. We will remember the many good times we've experienced together—the everyday associations as well as the gala occasions.

As we take our various places in the world of today, the value of these past years will become evident. Practical application will determine the worth of our training; years will attest the requital of friendship; and history will reflect the merits of directed intention.

The convicts of Wadsworth High spend thirty profitable hours each week within the walls. Here characters are molded, ambitions realized, and talents developed. Though we often denounce the fetters of organized education, we shall fully realize the value of this training in the years to come.

COURT OF APPEALS

We practice the rules of democracy here in Wadsworth High, and so we have a congress (Student Council). The Senate is composed of two representatives from each class, and the House of Representatives is composed of representatives from each fifth period room. Congress calls a joint meeting every Tuesday to make grievances known and to get legislative action on certain impending matters, such as Backwards and Student Government Days, awarding the service trophy, selling pennants, planning its assembly, and solving the problems of the students.

Which is more important—the annual or the newspaper column? If we were to debate this question, there would be some heated arguments from both sides.

The annual staff is a hard-working organization that strives each year to edit an annual free from any error. Each member tries to make his particular project a perfect one—partly because of his pride in the annual and partly because of the fines imposed for each error. They, of course, always take time out for fun.

The news club is an up-and-coming organization. A column is reserved for the latest school news in the local paper. The volunteer members are constantly busy, because deadlines have to be met each week. The club this year was very original in its ideas.

Our school couldn't operate well without our instrumental groups. They play at concerts under the capable direction of Mr. Perkins.

The varsity band can be heard fifth period in every part of the lower hall practicing diligently for its many appearances. It faithfully performs at half time during football season, in rain, sleet, or snow. It also furnishes the music at pep rallies and basketball games. Last year it played at the state fair and at the Republican Convention. What is the reward for all of this practice? Free admission to the games, experience in playing in a group under the baton of a conductor, and pride in the organization.

Every member of the reserve band aspires to be told that he has shown so much improvement in playing his instrument that he is eligible to play in the varsity band. This organization plays at reserve football games and serves as a sort of kindergarten to enable them to get started and to progress until they are promoted.

The orchestra plays music of a lighter vein. It furnishes the music for the baccalaureate service. Its soft, soothing music is always a treat to hear. The orchestra includes members of the varsity band in addition to the strings shown in the picture.

Belonging to one of the glee clubs is beneficial to every student who seriously intends to improve his voice. He receives proper training in group singing under the most able instruction of Mr. Sears.

The girls' glee club can be distinguished from the other musical groups at concerts by their light melodious songs and their colorful formals.

The boys' glee club is developing into a fine vocal group. We like to hear their humorous songs which they sing with so much gusto.

OPERETTA

Row 1: Mary Jo Bunnelle, Sally Parmelee, Jayne Armstrong, Ruth Farnsworth.

Row 2: Mervin Handshue, Clyde Morrison, Charles Loparo, Sidney Kreider.

The choir, composed of sixty selected students, is the favorite vocal group at Wadsworth High. During the last school year, it sang at concerts, over the public address system and in churches at Easter, at the Christmas assembly, and for chapel. It also broadcast a Christmas program over WHKK.

Instead of its yearly concert, last year the choir presented a cowboy operetta entitled Meet Arizona. The setting was the "wild and woolly West." The soloists were carefully selected by Mr. Sears. Those who saw the operetta will remember it for the bright colors of the costumes, and for the melodious, mellifluous theme song, "Meet Arizona."

2. Some of our more studious students.
3. Oh, the woes of a principal.
4. Such rapt attention in Miss Brooks' class.
5. Practice makes perfect.

ALL-SCHOOL PLAY

FATHER OF THE BRIDE

"More wedding gifts, gee whiz!"

Tommy ..... Bob Good

Kay ..... Ivy Few

Father ..... Bruce Campbell

Buckley ..... Sidney Kreider

Ben ..... Jerry Lange

Mother ..... Ruth Farnsworth

Our Miss Brooks, last year's outstanding junior class play, portrayed a chapter in the life of Miss Brooks, a schoolteacher. Her big problem, aside from getting along with the coach, was selecting the cast and directing a play entitled Lost Horizon. Both problems, of course, were completely solved in the end.

Father Of The Bride. the all-school play, was a story of a young couple who wanted to get married, of the trouble they had in deciding where the ceremony was to be performed, and how many guests were to be invited to the wedding.

HARD LABOR

At the same time that these students are learning trades, they are also giving service to the school.

Plays, concerts, assemblies, or chapels could not be conducted without the assistance of the stage crew to operate lights and microphones and to handle sets. Plays could not be given if the print shop did not print posters, programs, and tickets. The pep tags that are distributed before games are the result of more work by the print shop.

Movie operators are busy almost every day running the projectors in order to show educational films at a teacher's request. Machine shop students learn how to operate the fundamental machines so that they may be able to obtain better positions when they graduate from high school.

TRUSTIES

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Row 1: Persis Nagel, Mary Jo Bunnelle, Jerry Lange, Joanne Snyder, George Nielsen, Ruth Farnsworth, Clara Jo Griesmer.

Row 2: Nada Sigmon, Gene George, Carolyn Delagrange, Clayton Kramer, Freda Kilmer, John Jankowski, Sally Parmelee, Mrs. Hildebrand (Advisor).

Elected by the faculty because they have been outstanding in scholarship, character, service, and leadership, these students are very proud to belong to the National Honor Society. Each year the new recruits are subjected to a frightening ordeal termed an initiation. After this is over, they become full-fledged members of the National Honor Society.

HONORARY ROTARIANS

Row 1: George Nielsen, Gene George, George Christner, Ted Etling.

Row 2: Clayton Kramer, Jim Morrison, Bob King, Jerry Lange.

At the beginning of the school year the members of the senior class chose these eight outstanding senior boys to attend the Rotary meetings. Each boy went once a week for a month to the Rotary Club meeting, where he heard guest speakers and enjoyed a hearty meal.

NORTHAVEN LITHO

BUCKEYE STATE

Clayton Kramer, Joanne Snyder, Jerry Lange, Ruth Farnsworth, George Nielsen

Each year five juniors are elected by their classmates to represent Wadsworth High School at Buckeye Girls' and Boys' State. These students are sponsored by the American Legion and its auxiliary, by The Lions, and by The Rotary Club. It is a distinct honor to be selected as a delegate.

NATIONAL FORENSIC LEAGUE

Row 2: Miss Hood (Advisor), Marilyn Miller, Janet Friedt, Nancy Crumrine, Lucille Hartzler, Marilyn Kahl, Donna Dye, Ina Zwick, John Olmsted.

Row 3: Sandra Brouse, Joan Falconer, Sarah Kunkler, Beverly Parkinson, Jeannette Gaugler, Peg Owen, Bruce Campbell.

The National Forensic League, in its twenty-second year at Wadsworth High, is composed of volunteer students who are in the upper two-thirds of their classes. These students take time out from their busy schedules to learn declamations which they give before audiences in local communities. The organization helps the members to speak easily and fluently in public.

The Harmonettes, under the direction of Mr. Sears, is one of the most outstanding music groups in Wadsworth High School. Working strictly on their own time, the girls make many appearances for local organizations as well as for the school concerts. They also compete in the annual district and state music contests, which are held in the spring.

Chosen by a board of judges composed of teachers, these girls add a colorful touch to our band. Each summer they go to Kent State for a week to learn new techniques in twirling. They perform on cold nights at half time during football games, and during intermission at basketball games. One night during football season they surprised everyone by wearing new, attractive, red and white corduroy uniforms. We are proud of our majorettes.

YARD GAMES

COACHES

The W.H.S. coaching staff has proved itself very capable this year of doing the job given to it. Russ Doan became athletic director, Howard Dailey was appointed head football coach, and Dick Krauss took over as head basketball coach.

Slick Lyren, Douglas Hudson, Russ Doan, Dick Krauss, Jack Schaffer.

CHEERLEADERS

Mary Jo Bunnelle, JoAnn Welty, Ann Kyle, Dolly Sondles, Joy Moore, Pat Zeis.

These attractive young ladies have a large part in promoting school spirit. They are elected by the student body. Their duties are to lead cheers at all varsity games, to conduct pep rallies, to train reserve cheerleaders, and to originate new cheers. These cheerleaders faithfully performed their duties; and, as an added attraction, they had lovely new cheering uniforms.

Row 3: Richard Roberts, Don Hawk, Jerry Lange, Howard Leidy, Tom Marrin, Gene Files, Kenneth Shook, Jim Christner (Manager).

The diamond team, which was composed mostly of underclassmen, has much to look forward to. Faring a little less than average, the proteges of Eugene Lyren should be an experienced nine with plenty of go. The team had a record of four wins and nine losses. Clayton Kramer led the Grizzly batsmen, while Richard Roberts was the high light of the pitchers. The pennant-seeking team of 1952 will find ten returning letter men.

This year's grid team ended with a record of winning three, losing five, and tying one. Once again the outstanding game was an 18-16 win over Medina, after which Chuck Kime, the acting captain, received the Wadsworth-Medina American Legion trophy. The team lost to Norton and Tallmadge before breaking into the win column with a victory over Hower. Another high light was the win over Orrville before a large homecoming crowd. Andy Graham won the coveted Grizzly Memorial Trophy, and Chuck Kime was voted captain of the spirited '51 eleven.

The rewritten record book! That is the phrase that describes our magnificent Grizzly basketball team of '52. Led by Roger Dressler, a 6 ft. 3 in. junior who scored 322 points—31 points in one game (twice), carried a 17.88 average for 18 games, broke the record for the total points scored in one year, and broke the record for total points scored in 4 years (and still has another year to go!), the growling bears rolled to 13 victories and 5 defeats. Jerry Lange was second in scoring with 241 points and was the main ballhandler and playmaker. Bud Wolf made 68% of his fouls, which is a good record in high school. The 124 points scored in the Orrville game was an all-time high at W. H. S. The Grizzly five scored the most points ever collected by a W. H. S. combine and carried a 69 point average per game. The team broke the all-time-high game total, 68 points, nine times. We are proud of the best team Dick Krauss has put out. There were five seniors on the team, but we hope that their places can be filled. We shall never forget the best team in W. H. S. annals.

In the tournament at Kent, Wadsworth beat its oldest rival, Barberton, for the first time in several years, by a score of 51-48. This was undoubtedly the high light of the season. Roger Dressler was selected on the all-tournament first team and Jerry Lange on the second team.

The Booster Club basketball trophy was awarded to Jerry Lange.

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL

Though winning only two and losing six, the cubs will add a lot of weight and fight to the Grizzlies next year. The cubs did not break the ice until the third game, which was an impressive win over Copley. By the end of the season the freshmen had gained the needed experience to win a striking victory over Kent Roosevelt.

RESERVE BASKETBALL

The cubs, not to be outdone by the varsity, ended a good season with a record of 11 victories and 7 defeats. Although the cubs did not maintain the offensive average held by the varsity, Art Sykes did lead the cubs in scoring with over 200 points. Since there are five seniors graduating, you will probably see a lot more of these boys on the varsity squad. Howard Dailey did a fine job of coaching, and he produced a team and a record that the cubs can be proud of. The reserve squad should be able to fill the shoes left by seniors, and even bolster the Grizzly attack.

The Girls' Athletic Association membership is open to girls in both junior and senior high school. Recognition is given to the outstanding girls in this group by awards, which include two trophies. They participate in intramural activities such as volleyball, bowling, basketball, ping-pong, and round and square dancing.

It is the job of the reserve cheerleaders to cheer at all reserve contests and to take the place of varsity members during sickness. At the end of the first semester Mrs. Hoddinott's position was taken over by Miss Neumann.

FROM DE INSIDE LOOKIN' OUT

Hasn't youse guys ever wondered wot become of dem lucky mugs dat got "sprung" from dis here clink in de year of '52? Wal, here's de lowdown (wot ain't been censored), straight from de pages of de Police Gazette:

Mary Jo Bunnelle has finally received her funeral director's and embalmer's diploma. She and her father are now in partnership—Bunnelle and Daughter Funeral Home. Their motto is, "Not responsible for goods left over 30 days."

Gary Easterday, poor man, has been (shall we say) removed from our fair city and has taken up his residence at a large home in Massillon.

It is rumored that George Nielsen is trying for the sixth time to pass the entrance exams at Vassar College. Good luck, George!

Ruth Farnsworth is now celebrating her tenth year as vocalist and banjo player with Roy Acorn and his Hazy Hillside Boys.

Bill Butdorf, who has just completed his 15th year with the Cleveland Browns, was thrown out of the last game for spitting tobacco juice in the referee's eyes.

George Christner is now successfully managing his own small restaurant, Christner's Crusty Cup, on Al's Alley in the Bowery.

Ted Etling now writes a column for the Hickville Weekly Bugle, which is entitled "What I Heard at the Sewing Circle." Besides having become an expert on current events, Ted has also learned to embroider, an accomplishment which he feels will be a pleasant pastime in his old age.

Richard "Red" Roberts, well-known basketball authority and coach, is currently coaching the famous Red Head Girls' Basketball Team. When asked how prospects were for the coming year, Red reported that with his star players, Ann "Lightning" Bendel and Joan "Flash" Falconer, the team is sure to win the coveted interpenitentiary pennant.

Ann Olmsted has recently gained nation-wide fame because of her new book entitled Problems of the Piccolo Player. Miss Olmsted attributes her great success to her many years' experience in the famous W. H. S. Marching Band, which is now on tour in the East.

Jean Alcorn, who has gone straight since her release from the Wadsworth Pen, has made a small fortune selling Alcorn's Corny Corn Plasters to tired prison guards at her former Alma Mater. It is reported that Miss Alcorn's most enthusiastic customer is Chief Warden, Robert Trease, a former trusty from the same institution.

Barb Morrison has taken over and combined the El Comedor and Polar Bar. New specialty — malted highballs.

Another one of our parolees, Mr. James Troxel, has recently opened an exclusive night club on the corner of Main and College Streets. Troxel's slogan is, "Walk in, crawl out," and most of his customers have been following that suggestion.

Phyllis Morrison, congresswoman from Ohio, has just introduced a bill in the Senate for federal aid to spinsters.

Business tycoon, John Jankowski, has just purchased Brenneman's drug store and is employing Ethel Walters as chief bouncer.

Dolly Sondles, owner of a 10th Avenue beauty salon for pitiful pedigrees and homely hounds, has offered special rates on poodlecuts for shabby sheep dogs during this season only.

Mida Wolf, Ohio's own silver-tongued senator, scored another victory last week when Congress passed the Skinny Squab Act, appropriating two million dollars for the construction of two thousand peepholes for the homeless homing pigeons of Medina County.

Gloria Riley, Mida's chief opponent in the Senate, wanted to pigeonhole the bill; but "Mighty Mida," the Congressional marvel, won again.

Gwen Byrne, newly elected mayor of Silvercreek, has just appointed Irene Maurer as chief of police. The two are working together on an extensive plan to rid the city of all nuisances—their first objective being to outlaw men drivers.

Freda "Hips" Kilmer and Clayton "Killer" Kramer have given up their wrestling careers and are busily engaged in propagating petunias in their onion patch.

Cynthia Erskine has returned to her former haunts in India, where she is promoting the business of raising bigger and better elephants for the G. O. P.

SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

Jean Raynor now owns her own bakery shop. Her specialty is gingerbread voodoo dolls. It is believed that she has killed her 17 husbands by this voodoo magic.

As we visit Ringling Brothers Circus, we see that Marcia Zwick, the world's famous sharpshooter, is now touring with the circus. She shoots fleas from a tightrope.

The next attraction is Dorine Griesmer. She is the magician's assistant who is daily being sawed in half. To her friends she is known as the girl with the split personality.

As we continue down the midway, we see Ramona Ott, the bearded lady, starring as "The Living Whisk Broom." She goes about brushing people off (for a small fee).

Just before we leave the circus grounds we see "Hot Breath" Maffet, the fire-eater. Jane recommends Kools. "They are easy on my throat," says Jane.

Juanita Brown now works for the Max Factor Cosmetic Company demonstrating Cling, the new lifetime lipstick.

Rita Smith, a model for Plank Elevator, has been chosen "Miss Chicken Feed of 1970" along with Miss Barbara Friedt, who has been honored with the title, "Miss Wheat Seed." Both girls are entering the "Oatmeal Bowl" competition this spring.

Joann Clark has just been released from the hospital with minor injuries. She was walking across the street singing "I Love the Smell of Onions" when she was struck by Carolyn Delagrange's garbage truck. Although no one was hurt, Miss Delagrange lost her precious cargo all over the street.

Joanne Snyder became such an expert in the art of counterfeiting that she has been hired by the government in order to make the real things and to detect her own bills which are still in circulation.

Jerry Lange is now the manager of the Crew Cut Live or Die Barber Shop.

Ken Fraley, who owns the Honest Food Market, has retired on the reward money he collected for turning in the crooked Kilmers. Honest Fraley suspected them when he found some of his meat missing.

Marilyn August and Alice Ditter have just returned from a trip to Mars to visit relatives.

Ardana Bowers has become official flea counter for Carol Caskey's monkey house at the Wadsworth Zoo.

Shy Evelyn Hartman, who never had too much to say, is now employed as a ghost writer for the President of the United States.

Carol Tiffany and Joy Moore are currently doing their cancan act at the Oo La La Night Club, which is owned and operated by Andy Graham.

Poor Nada Sigmon is still in Siberia looking for the lost chord.

After 10 years' study in speech and voice control, Pat Lee has finally gained a position as chief hog caller on Vivian Jerkovich's new pig farm.

Sally Parmelee, originator and president of the Stage Crew Auxiliary, has revolted from the organization. Miss Parmelee stated that she refused to carry pianos while the boys embroidered names on their uniforms.

Sarah Kunkler was just promoted to chief elephant washer for the Phyllis Fixler Freak Show. Miss Kunkler worked her way up from assistant peanut cracker.

The Barbara Coolman Climate Control has been doing a super business at the North Pole. Not only has Miss Coolman made money on her transplanted tropical climate, but Gloria Pahlau has also cashed in by selling bathing suits and electric fans to the Eskimos and seals.

Nancy Simcox and Waunita Martin, originators of "Prim," the new home permanent that needs no hair, have been voted the outstanding chemists of the year by the "Glossy Dome Division" of the "Barren Bean Society."

In exploring his family tree, Professor Bob King has discovered civilization's "missing link."

Virginia Zurbuch is trying for the third time to swim the River Styx. Her motto is, "Try, try, and try again. Then stop. Don't make a fool of yourself."

Dr. Ivy Few, noted psychoanalyst, has finally completed her ten-year probe into Norbert Borth's inner mind. Last week she was to have disclosed her findings to an eagerly awaiting world, but it seems she had nothing to report.

Ed Rich, that new emotional singer comparable to Johnny Ray, brought down the house yesterday with his rendition of the hit song, "Bawl," successor to "Cry." Mr. Rich was so overcome by his own feelings that he had to be carried to the wings. This is a big job for any stage crew.

FROM DE INSIDE LOOKIN' OUT

John Friedt was seen washing windows on the 35th story of the Empire State Building. When asked why he chose this hazardous profession, Mr. Friedt replied, "It's one way to be up in the air without having a hang-over." We hate to disagree with Mr. Friedt, but it seems that his co-worker and colleague, Eugene Johnston, recently disappeared while hanging over the window sill to see just how high up he was.

Bob McElroy has just completed his third trip around the world on a pogo stick.

Mr. Gene George is now a hardened criminal at Alcatraz after trying to retrieve his penny from a gum ball machine. Somehow or other, the judge just didn't understand.

Persis Nagel, the violin, and her bow, Don Hawk, have been making beautiful music together.

Dr. James Morrison, world-renowned scientist, mathematician, and safe-cracker, is currently sharing a room with his old side-kick, Gary Easterday, at that large, happy home in Massillon. Dr. Morrison lost his mental fortitude after repeated attempts to square the circle.

Arno Welty has given up his job as grave digger at the local cemetery. It seems that Mr. Welty struck oil while planting his 100th customer and can now be seen lighting his cigars with twenty-dollar bills.

Phil "Second Gear" Mack and Don "Model T" Silchuk are currently doing time in separate Sing Song cells. The boys finally got pinched for selling souped-up cars that fell apart after a 50-mile run. "Model T" was quoted as saying, "It was an honest deal. We gave 'em four wheels and a motor; what more did they want?"

Nancy Schwab has made a large collection of secondhand paper plates. Of one she is proud to say, "George Washington slurped here."

George L. Held, that muscular new movie star, is taking Hollywood by storm with his portrayal of Tarzan. Brave Mr. Held, who fears neither man nor beast, is able to kill 10 lions bare handed while riding sidesaddle on an elephant. The directors have only one problem. Poor George is deathly afraid of Amazon women.

Several weeks ago Senator Stanley "Kefauver" Wolf made the startling statement that something smelled rotten in the mink-coat business. Since conducting his investigations, the senator has found that the manufacturers are using dyed skunk. This discovery has shocked socialite Ethel Rufener into investing her money exclusively in ermines. "Don't be half safe," she states; "buy ermines."

Bonnie Andre, who was known as the fastest talking inmate at the Wadsworth Pen, has since become a famous auctioneer. Because of her special ability for mutilating English, Miss Andre has gone to China, where she can best be understood.

Colonel Gary Slabaugh has moved to Kentucky with his wife and seventeen children, where he owns a large plantation with eighteen slaves, namely, his wife and seventeen children.

World-famous scientist, Dr. Kathryn Miller, has discovered an astounding solution that will dissolve freckles. But now, it seems, Dr. Miller faces her greatest task, that of finding a formula which will put skin back on the face.

Mr. Richard Kilmer and Mrs. Kilmer, the former Marjorie Wohlford, have recently been picked up by the police. It seems that their business establishment, The Grade A Meat Market, has been closed because of its illegal sale of horse meat. After ten days of questioning, Mrs. Kilmer finally confessed that they had been stealing dead horses for the last eight years. Further investigation disclosed that Mrs. Kilmer had furnished the brains behind this crooked racket, while Mr. Kilmer had supplied the brawn. As Richard himself stated, "She picked 'em out, and I dragged 'em home."

"Big Sadie," formerly known as Elaine Miller, is making a cool million a year from the Sadie Razor Parking Ground, which she now owns.

For the last twelve years, Judy Long has been the seeing eye for a blind dog. As a reward for her years of faithful service, The Humane Society of Poe has awarded her a year's supply of dog biscuits and a dish with her name on it.

Miss Pat Zeis, owner of the One Lung Chinese Laundry, has recently retired to marry wealthy playboy, Charles R. Kime. The source of his income is unknown.

Clara Jo Griesmer, who owns the fashionable Griesmer's Grimy Griddle, has gone into partnership with Tom Hammer, manager of that popular eating spot, Hammer's Hamburger Heaven. This is a sizzling combination.

Because of his early experience as usher at the Strand Theatre, Gene Waddell has broken into the literary field with his two new thrillers, Follow the Flashlight and Which Seat Did I Leave My Chewing Gum Under?

David Welch finally became a Pfc. after 18 years of active service in the K. P. squad. Congratulations! We knew he could do it!
